RADIO ANNOUNCER

Radio COCO | March 2021 – October 2022

As a radio sportscaster, I have experience in:

- Hosting various sports radio shows and interviews with athletes, coaches and experts.
- Performing sports newscasts on a daily basis, delivering accurate and timely information to the listeners.
- Covering sports events live on air, providing engaging and descriptive commentary for different sports such as football, baseball, boxing, tennis and track & field.

I have demonstrated excellent communication skills, passion for sports and professionalism in my work.

DIRECTOR OF SUPERVISION AND CONTROL

EGREM | February 2019 - March 2020

- As Director of Supervision and Control, I was responsible for overseeing quality and compliance with laws and regulations during the company's operations and projects.
- Led a team of supervisors and controllers who monitored the performance and risk management of the rest of departments and functions.
- I also ensured that the company adhered to relevant regulations, standards and best practices in its industry.

Some of my achievements as the director of supervision and control include:

- Implementing a comprehensive supervision and control framework that improved the efficiency and effectiveness of the company's processes and systems.
- Developing and enforcing policies and procedures that enhanced the accountability and transparency of the company's activities and outcomes.
- Conducting regular audits and reviews that identified areas of improvement and recommended corrective actions.
- Providing guidance and support to senior management on strategic planning, decision making and problem solving.
- Establishing strong relationships with internal and external stakeholders, such as regulators, auditors, clients and partners.

PROSECUTOR

Cuban Prosecutor's Office | August 2005 - August 2018

As a public safety and law enforcement officer, I acquired extensive experience in various aspects of criminal justice and anti-corruption (including anti-money laundering). My main responsibilities and achievements include:

- Managing and leading criminal investigations, from gathering evidence to interviewing suspects and witnesses. I have successfully handled complex and sensitive cases.
- Representing the Prosecutor's Office in Courts of Law at various levels, including before the Supreme Court, and presenting oral and written arguments. I have won numerous convictions and secured favorable outcomes for the public interest.
- Leading anti-corruption teams and actions, such as conducting audits, inspections and inquiries into public organizations and officials. I have exposed and prosecuted several cases of corruption, fraud and abuse of power in different sectors.
- Evaluating crime prevention and anti-corruption systems in public organizations and recommending improvements or corrective measures. I have contributed to the development and implementation of policies, standards and best practices to enhance transparency, accountability and integrity in public administration.
- Executing constitutional reviews of laws and regulations to ensure compliance with human rights standards.
- Investigating and resolving violations of citizens' rights, such as discrimination, abuse of authority or unlawful detention. I have defended the rights of numerous citizens, re-establishing their vulnerated rights.
- Evaluating risk management systems in public organizations and identifying potential threats or vulnerabilities. I have advised on the design and improvement of security measures to prevent or mitigate risks related to crime or corruption.
- Obtaining and processing information from various sources, such as databases, records or interviews, using analytical tools and techniques. I have demonstrated proficiency in data analysis, research methods and evidence-based decision making.
- Writing reports and legal documents in a clear, concise and accurate manner, following established formats and guidelines. I have produced high-quality documents that reflect my professional knowledge, skills and ethics.
- Public speaking to various audiences, such as judges, media or community groups, using effective communication skills and strategies. I have delivered persuasive presentations that convey my arguments, evidence and recommendations in a compelling way.
- Developing teamwork and leadership skills by collaborating with other professionals from different backgrounds and disciplines. I have fostered a positive work environment that promotes cooperation, innovation and excellence among my colleagues and partners.
- Developing communication and public relations techniques by establishing rapport with stakeholders, such as victims, witnesses or media representatives. I have built trust and credibility with the people involved or affected by my work, ensuring their participation, support and satisfaction.
- Developing social investigation methods by applying sociological theories and concepts to understand crime patterns and causes. I have gained insight into the social factors that influence criminal behaviors, motivations or prevention, as well as the impact of crime on society.
- Budget administration by preparing, monitoring and reporting on financial resources allocated to projects or programs.
